

Editor's Quotebook

Trade Stamps Net Cage Court

By FRANK GIANELLI

HOW ABOUT THAT . . . !

Gerard High School, one of two new Catholic facilities in Phoenix, paid for two basketball slabs with 2,000 books of trading stamps. Parishoners were solicited for stamps of all kinds, books were redeemed for $3 each, and two concrete play courts constructed with the cash . . .

The concrete slabs will be temporary until gym facilities are provided . . . some basketball coaches won't permit athletes to play on concrete courts; claim the hard surface damages legs . . . Pro Basketball ace Jerry Lucas blames two bad knees on the concrete he played on as a youngster . . .